EMURGO Sharing Its Vision At WBFF Tokyo Meetup

EMURGO's Chief Business Officer Yosuke Yoshida will be a keynote speaker at the upcoming World Blockchain Forum (WBFF) Globalization Tokyo meetup event on September 2nd, along with other figures from the cryptocurrency and blockchain industry. WBFF is a blockchain conference brand that is hosting an event in Tokyo this year alongside other events in the Asian region.

Yoshida will give a special talk entitled: "Building a Global Cardano." As the Chief Business Officer at the official commercial arm of Cardano, Yoshida will be sharing his vision, experiences, and insights on the Cardano blockchain ecosystem and other relevant topics. Events such as WBFF are valuable for the community, since this is where various blockchain and cryptocurrency thought leaders come to network, learn, conduct investment meetings and meet with valuable members from the community.

Recently, EMURGO inked MOUs with two South Korean government-approved trade associations to further drive the adoption of Cardano in the content and gaming industries there. Focused on building the commercialization of Cardano with a rich set of diverse ecosystem players, EMURGO is consistently raising the awareness of Cardano to interested parties and directly engaging with the community at events like this and others.
